August

"A Reader Lives A Thousand Lives Before He Dies. The Man Who Never Reads Lives Only One", thus quote George R. R. Martin. In order to improve students' 'Scholastic' and 'Co-scholastic' strength, Delhi Public School, Gaya has taken a step in the direction of promoting the importance of reading books and consequently Delhi Public School, Gaya has organized a "Book Fair" in collaboration with Scholastic India Private Limited, Delhi. It has been inaugurated by our respected Principal Mr. Sanjeet Soni in the presence of students of Class IX on 5th August 2019. It had continued till 9th August 2019 at the school's Indoor Auditorium. Our admirable Principal reiterated the fact that reading is one of the few lifestyle choices that help you develop your personality. Be it any genre of reading like fantasy, historical fiction, autobiographies, etc., there is much to learn from these faithful companions. Reading helps you put in the shoes of the protagonist, or the antagonist, for that matter. This develops a valuable character trait in a human being - empathy. It also sharpens one's ability to lose oneself completely in whatever one is doing, giving hundred percent to any action. Living these 'thousand lives' bestow you with knowledge and wisdom like no other experience. It teaches you how to filter the negative influences in life and focus on positivity. It gives them the confidence to stay strong and overcome all obstacles in your path to success. It helps you become a better human being with a vast array of knowledge. Book fair remained open for the children during the school hours. Parents were also allowed to visit it on 8th and 9th August 2019 from 2.30 p.m. to 4:00 p.m. Wish you all a Happy Reading!!!!

Activities to imbue a feeling of patriotism amongst tiny tots

"There is no force that put an end to the human quest for freedom". Our kids have obviously not been a part of the freedom struggle, and many aren't fortunate enough to have great grandparents either who can narrate their personal experiences of the freedom struggle. So the only way to imbibe a feeling of patriotism within them is through imparting knowledge about it. Thus, reminding the students the privilege to be born in an independent country; an activity was conducted for the students of classes Nursery to II on 14th August, 2019. The students made different items like caps and cards with great enthusiasm. The teachers also urged them to value and nurture this freedom, through the activity.
