

DELHI PUBLIC SCHOOL, GAYA

WORKSHEET-1

Subject : Science

Class : V

Topic : Plant Reproduction

- Name the following:
 - Two plants that reproduce from spores.
 - _____
 - _____
 - Two monocotyledons seeds.
 - _____
 - _____
 - Two underground stems.
 - _____
 - _____
 - Two crops that grow well on hill slopes.
 - _____
 - _____
- Fill in the blanks :
 - Growing of plants from any vegetative part of the parent plant is called _____.
 - Seeds that have _____ stick to the body of animals or birds.
 - Cotton grows well in _____ soil and jute grows in the _____ soil.
 - _____ are chemicals used to destroy harmful insects.
 - The practice of growing crops on a large scale is termed as _____.
- Match the following:

A	B
a) Sweet potato	Spores
b) Bryophyllum	Stem cutting
c) Strawberry	Leaves
- True or false :
 - Fibrous outer coat of coconut seeds helps them to be easily carried away by water.
 - Cotyledons store food for the baby plant.
 - Dandelion seeds are dispersed by water.
 - Carrot is an underground stem.
 - Soaked seed kept in a freezer cannot germinate as it does not get adequate warmth.

5. Identify the seed and name the agent which helps in the dispersal of these seeds:

(a)

(b)

(c)

(d)

(d)

