It gives me immense pleasure to be at the helm of the affairs of one of the fastest growing DPSes. Being a part of such an illustrious organization, we are committed to empowering generations of young students through offering excellence in education. It is our endeavour to impart to our children a modern outlook so that they can compete with the best.

Apart from traditional teaching, efforts are also made to teach the girls the art of self defense. To create a competitive environment among the students various contests of cultural academic and social programmes are organized on regular intervals.

Besides the boys and girls are taught about the rich culture and the glorious past of the country. The school is also in the collaboration with the international academic institution like the British Council of India to keep the children abreast with the latest challenges.

We are fortunate enough to have a team of highly qualified, dynamic and dedicated teachers and staff who sweat it out to shape up our kids into budding stars of tomorrow and equally supporting parents.
